ABOUT THE STATE

City Clerk M. C. Grandy of Burlington has received from Charles Nutt of Worcester, Mass., a letter asking information regarding the family of Charles Rock, who died in Fitchburg, Mass., November 9, 1904. He was born in Burlington, March 29, 1843, a son of Abraham Rock.
He married Mary Morris, daughter of William Morris of Burlington. An effort is being made to locate his relatives as his estate remains unsettled.

A fine opportunity for a panic was averted at the St. Albans high school on Tuesday morning by the coolness and nerve of S. S. Cushing, one of the faculty. Capt. Cushing was instructing a class in mechanical drawing, when it was noticed that smoke was coming from one of the storage closets where the chemicals are kept. He threw open the door and found a can of phosphorus blazing. As there were many other chemicals of a highly explosive nature there, Capt. Cushing yanked the blazing can onto the floor and smothered it with cloths, but not until his left hand was badly burned and a suit of clothes spoiled.

Harry Patten, who played second base with the champion Burlington team in the Northern league and who last season covered second with the Brooklyn team of the National league, has been sold to Rochester of the Eastern league. Patten's fielding was said to be as good as any man's in the business, but his hitting was worryfully weak. During the fore part of last season he was especially good in laying down bunts, but the big leaguers learned soon how to head them off, and it was all up with Patten, because he couldn't line 'em out.

CONSUMPTION IN TRADES.

The Various Ratio of Liability to the Disease.

Owing to the fact that granite working is among the industries studied, a local interest is added to a recent bulletin from the federal department of labor, in which Frederick L. Hoffman discusses "the mortality from consumption in duty trades," paying special attention to the processes and working conditions in occupations where, because of dust, the employment is injurious to health and leads to the development of consumption in particular. Much valuable material from official sources and from insurance mortality experience is also presented, showing the excessive mortality in dusty occupations. Forty-two occupations are considered, divided into four groups, according as they are subject to exposure to metallic dust, mineral dust, vegetable dust, or animal and mixed fiber dust.

Of the deaths from all causes among males 15 years of age and over in the registration area of the United States, 1.8 per cent. were from consumption.
According to industrial insurance experience, the corresponding proportions were 36.9 per cent. for occupations exposed to metallic dust, 28.8 per cent. for those exposed to mineral dust, 24.8 per cent. for those exposed to animal and mixed fiber dust. The occupation showing the highest consumption mortality was grinding, among whom 42.3 per cent. of all deaths were from that disease.

In each occupation group the highest consumption mortality was among persons from 25 to 34 years of age, the proportion of deaths from consumption for that age group being 57.2 per cent. in occupations exposed to metallic dust, 47.4 per cent. in those exposed to mineral dust, 53.0 per cent. in those exposed to vegetable fiber dust, and 53.3 per cent. in those exposed to animal and mixed dust, as compared with 31.3 per cent. for males in the registration area.
In conjunction with the industrial insurance mortality experience, occupational mortality statistics are presented from the reports of the United States census, British official reports, and the occupation mortality statistics of Rhode Island, which furnish additional evidence of the health-injurious effects of ex-posure in the occupations considered. These injurious effects are reflected in the comparatively small proportion of persons of advanced years, a higher general death rate, and very high specific death rates from consumption and other respiratory diseases.

It is the opinion of the author that by intelligent methods of ventilation and stimulus given by the introduction of New Furnaces at Seto and Imari.

The quality of porcelain produced in Seto and Imari, well known porcelain centers in Japan, from ancient times, has shown very little improvement, remaining almost unchanged for generations. In consequence, the export of wares produced there has been gradually diminishing. Lately, Mr. Kitamura, an expert in the department of agriculture and commerce, visited France and investigated the pottery industry there. As a result of his visit, furnaces of a new style invented in Europe have been erected at Seto and Imari, with the aid of a subsidy of 5,000 yen from the government to each place. The new furnaces are each estimated to accommodate at one time porcelain to the value of 2,000 yen.—Japan Chronicle.

Mr. Carnegie warned the Conference of Governors at the White

"Fortunately, the use of concrete, simple and of structural steel. Concrete promises to become superior to steel and stone in strength, durabil-

SILK PLANTS COMING HERE.

Industry Representing $10,000,000 Will Remove from France.

New York, April 16.—That a combination of silk industries in southern France, representing $10,000,000 of capital, will transfer their plants to this country was stated by John Duplan, head of large silk dye works at Hazelton, Pa., yesterday. Mr. Duplan accompanied by D. A. Gillet, a French silk manufacturer, who has been investigating conditions in this country, sailed for Havre on the steamer La Provence yesterday.
Mr. Duplan said already a co-operation had been effected with one large silkdyeing establishment in Paterson, N. J., and that one of the largest banking institutions of France was acting as financial backer of the transfer. He said the principal reason for the transfer was the tariff imposed.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD

When you buy a package of Samose, the great flesh forming food, weigh your self and see how much you gain in the first week's use. Dr. F. Davis will tell of many of his customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. He has seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose he called the Hawk and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that he gives his personal guarantee with every package of Samose he sells to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.
Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite. It builds up the thin, pale, puny girl and woman to perfect plumpness and health.
It is the only flesh forming food of its kind and in addition, it strengthens every organ of the body, restoring strength and health to the whole system.

Notice.

Whereas, Elroy F. Leavitt, druggist of Plainfield, Vt., has applied for a first class license to sell intoxicating liquors at his store on Main street, front and
